Blinds by Post

How to Measure for Pencil Pleat and Pinch Pleat (double and triple) Curtains

Pencil Pleat Curtains

Pinch Pleat Curtains

CONTENTS

CURTAIN MEASURING GUIDE CONTENTS

Simply find what you need below and head to the relevant page for easy-to-follow instructions.

Contents
Find the instructions you need quickly and easily — Page 2

Measuring a Track
Follow these instructions if you already have a track — Page 3

Measuring a Track with a overlap
Follow these instructions if you have a track with a overlap — Page 4

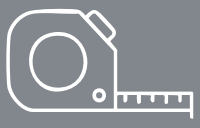

Measuring a Pole
Follow these instructions if you have a pole — Page 5

Additional Information
Check out this page for our video guides — Page 6

MEASURING INSTRUCTIONS

What you'll need:

Tape Measure

Pencil

Paper

Phone, tablet or PC

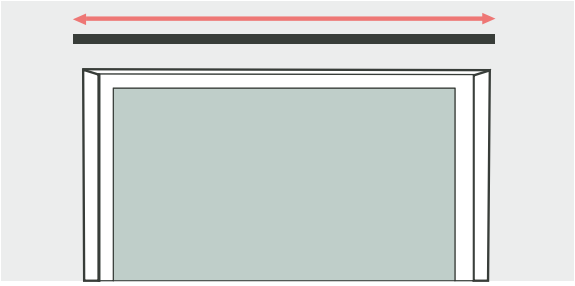

ALREADY HAVE A TRACK?

Here's how to measure your track

Step 1: Measure the Width

Measure the width of your track between the end caps.

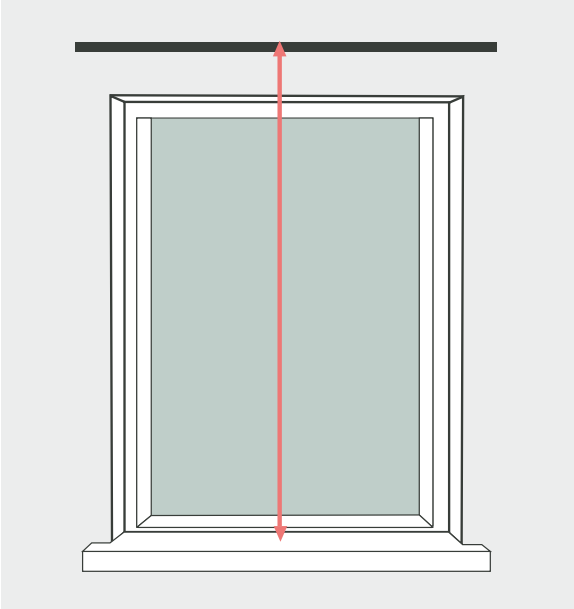

Step 2: Measure the Drop

Measure from the top of the track, down to where you want your curtains to finish at the bottom.

You can choose where you'd like your curtains to finish, but make sure there's enough clearance below them. We recommend leaving a 15mm gap between the bottom of your curtains and the floor or any surfaces they may touch.

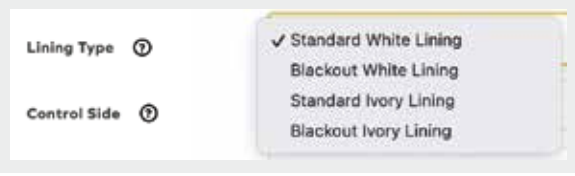

If you'd prefer your curtains to puddle on the floor, measure down to the floor and add an extra 50–100mm to the drop.

Step 3: Select your preferred lining choice

Blackout lining blocks most light for better sleep and privacy. Ideal for bedrooms and nurseries, with added thermal benefits to help regulate room temperature.

Standard lining softly filters light while maintaining privacy. Perfect for living spaces where you want brightness without full darkness.

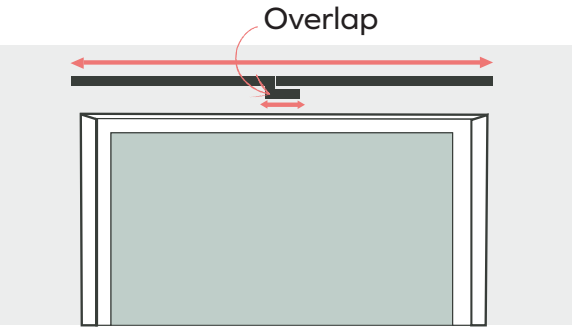

ALREADY HAVE A TRACK WITH A OVERLAP?

Here's how to measure your track with a overlap

Step 1: Measure the Width

Measure the width of your track between the end caps, plus the width of the overlap.

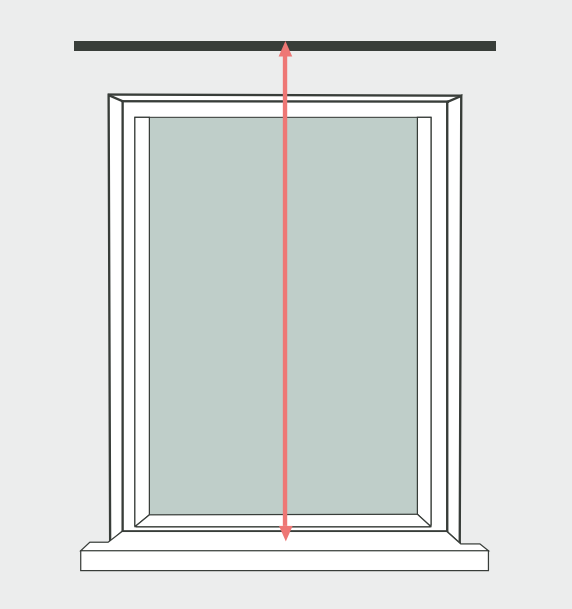

Step 2: Measure the Drop

Measure from the top of the track, down to where you want your curtains to finish at the bottom.

You can choose where you'd like your curtains to finish, but make sure there's enough clearance below them. We recommend leaving a 15mm gap between the bottom of your curtains and the floor or any surfaces they may touch.

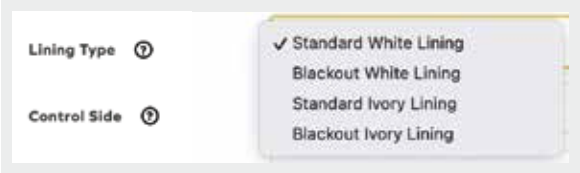

If you'd prefer your curtains to puddle on the floor, measure down to the floor and add an extra 50–100mm to the drop.

Step 3: Select your preferred lining choice

Blackout lining blocks most light for better sleep and privacy. Ideal for bedrooms and nurseries, with added thermal benefits to help regulate room temperature.

Standard lining softly filters light while maintaining privacy. Perfect for living spaces where you want brightness without full darkness.

MEASURING INSTRUCTIONS

ALREADY HAVE A POLE?

Here's how to measure your pole

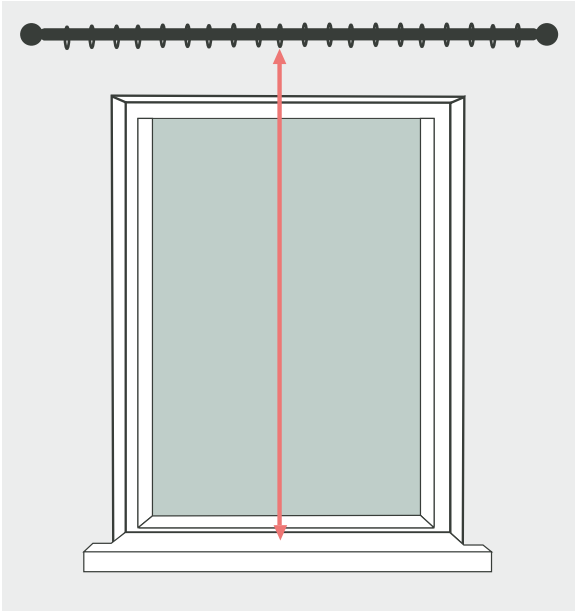

Step 1: Measure the Width

Measure the width of your pole between each finial.

Step 2: Measure the Drop

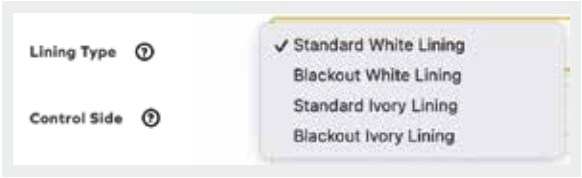

Measure from below the rings, down to where you want your curtains to finish at the bottom.

You can choose where you'd like your curtains to finish, but make sure there's enough clearance below them. We recommend leaving a 15mm gap between the bottom of your curtains and the floor or any surfaces they may touch.

If you'd prefer your curtains to puddle on the floor, measure down to the floor and add an extra 50–100mm to the drop.

Step 3: Select your preferred lining choice

Blackout lining blocks most light for better sleep and privacy. Ideal for bedrooms and nurseries, with added thermal benefits to help regulate room temperature.

Standard lining softly filters light while maintaining privacy. Perfect for living spaces where you want brightness without full darkness.

HOW ABOUT MATCHING?

Shop our range of Roman Blinds and Cushions to pair with your Curtains!

CLICK ME

ROMAN BLINDS

CUSHIONS

CLICK ME

Did you know?

Alongside our written instructions, we also provide helpful video guides to show you exactly how to measure your Curtains.

CLICK ME

Watch Now

Stay social with us on: